Understand Africa to be involved on its development

La Dépêche Diplomatique is an information medium which deciphers the news with rigor and put them into perspective to be able to understand the subtleties of Africa in its diversities.

The magazine reflects the progress of Africa, and is intended for men and women who aspire, hope and act for the emergence of a new era on a continent where values and traditions rub shoulders with modernity.

La Dépêche Diplomatique is a space of expression for a dynamic youth, for politicians and decision makers involved in the on-going transformation of the African continent.

The magazine aims to promote the potential of African countries abroad to allow the continent to have its rightful place in the world economic order.

Mr. Abdoul Rakhamane Dabo, publisher of La Dépêche Diplomatique.

La Dépêche Diplomatique is the ideal partner for advertisers who aspire to associate their brand image with a magazine reflecting the evolution and the modernity of Africa and who contribute to the economic development of this continent of the future through their investments.

Distributed in Africa, Europe and Americas

La Dépêche Diplomatique is distributed throughout the pan-African sphere and every day the Magazine gains many new readers thanks to its extensive presence on the internet and social networks which contributes to its international reputation.

Our history

In 2008, a group of diplomats accredited to Senegal, intellectuals and international communication professionals gave rise to La Dépêche Diplomatique.

This pan-African magazine is focused on major political subjects and social events, as well as economic news and international relations. It also presents the key figures of the culture scene.

News from here and elsewhere

Our main priority remains a free and fair treatment of international political, economic, social and cultural news.

In each edition of the magazine you will find a focus on a country, the analysis of a social issue, a spotlight on the on-going economic and social changes in Africa.
